

PRIMITIVE BILIARY CHOLANGITIS - AUTOIMMUNE HEPATITIS OVERLAP SYNDROME: CASE REPORT AND LITTERATURE REVIEW

Chantelli Razafindrazoto¹, Andry Rakotozafindrabe ¹, Nitah Randramifidy¹, Anjaramalala Rasolonjatovo¹, Tovo Rabenjanahary¹, Soloniaina Razafimahefa², and Rado Ramanampamonjy¹

¹Université d'Antananarivo

²Université de Fianarantsoa

July 20, 2020

Abstract

Overlap syndrome associating primary biliary cholangitis and autoimmune hepatitis remains a rarely studied pathology. The diagnosis is based on diagnostic criteria. The criteria of Chazouillères (Paris criterion) et al were the most used. The combination of UDCA and immunosuppressive helped achieve remission in the majority of cases.

Hosted file

OVERLAP SYNDROME PBC-AIH. Case Report. Razafindrazoto.pdf available at <https://authorea.com/users/344473/articles/470986-primitive-biliary-cholangitis-autoimmune-hepatitis-overlap-syndrome-case-report-and-litterature-review>