

Slightly decrease the maximums and minimums of normal traction in the center of the fault

